Gestalt Coaching: Enhancing Your Competency

IGCP is an ICF-accredited coach training program

Coaching has emerged as a distinctive competency and a professional calling. Organizational consultants, coaches, business and human service professionals will find this workshop particularly useful for learning: Gestalt theory, concepts, and methods; tools for facilitating individual and small group change and development; and data based-based observations about one's use of self and the impact of one's presence as an intervener and coach. Extensive skill building sessions, with faculty consultation and feedback are built into this workshop. This is an intensive introduction to the larger International Gestalt Coaching Program (IGCP). The workshop earns International Coach Federation Continuing Coaching Education credits.
